BARBADOES.

To his Excellency Robert Lowther, Esq; His Majesty's Captain-General and Commander in Chief over this and other the Charibbee Islands to Windward of Guarduloope, &c.

The humble Address of the Grand Inquest for the Body of this Island, holden in St. Michael's Town, the 10th, 11th, and 12th Days of June, in the Year of our Lord 1718.

May it please your Excellency,

WE humbly beg Leave to offer our sincere Acknowledgments to your Excellency, for the many Benefits and Advantages we enjoy under your Excellency's most auspicious Administration of this Government.

Your Excellency's Zeal for the Protestant Succession in the illustrious House of Hanover, hath been so conspicuous, that no Malignant, (if any such there is among us) presumes to express the least Disaffection to that happy Establishment.

Your Excellency's Endeavours to settle the Peace and Tranquility of this Island, which at your Accession to the Government was unhappily distracted with intestine Divisions, have been so successful, that the Name of Faction or Party is no more heard among us; and your Distribution of Justice hath been so equal, and impartial, that all Pretences for Cavils and Complaints are effectually removed.

Your Excellency's Regard to Trade, on which the Prosperity of every Government so much depends, hath appeared, as from many other Instances, so particularly from your late Proclamation for enforcing the wholesome Laws of this Island against forestalling, engrossing, and regrating, which of late have been too much practis'd among us by some particular People to their private Advantage, as also the shipping off Provisions, to the utter Ruin of our poorer Inhabitants, and to the great Injury of the publick: Nor hath your Excellency been more active in causing former Laws to be duly put in Execution, than you have been sollicitous in supplying us with such new Laws as were wanting.

The unlimited Power of the Court of Exchequer in this Island, which lay so long as a heavy Load on the Inhabitants, is, by a late Act, reduced within such Bounds, as sufficiently preserves his Majesty's Rights, without agrieving the Subject.

And the Fatality of General Verdicts, whereby many have been concluded in their just Rights, for Want of sufficient Matter or Record to ground a Writ of Error upon, hath had an effectual Remedy provided against it, by your Excellency's passing the new Law concerning special Verdicts.

And as your Excellency hath thus express'd your Concern for the Interest of this Island, in Relation to the private Estates of the Inhabitants, your Excellency hath discover'd no less a Regard to the Safety and Credit of the Publick, not only by the late Reparation and Improvement of our Fortifications, but by your appointing a prudent and indefatigable Committee, for settling the publick Debts, and appropriating the Payment and Discharge of the same.

Thus hath your Excellency gone thro' the several Branches of this Government, and made in each of them such beneficial Regulations, as do undeniably prove how entirely your Excellency hath always had at Heart the Welfare and Prosperity of this Island, and how much we stand indebted to your Excellency's Wisdom and Goodness, for the Happiness which we at present enjoy.

And as we are satisfy'd, that nothing can contribute more to the perpetuating this Happiness, than your Excellency's long Continuance to preside over us, so we humbly assure your Excellency, that Nothing is more heartily desired by,

Sir, your Excellency's most dutiful and most obedient humble Servants.

London, October 6.

On Saturday arriv'd two Mails from Holland.

From the Hague Courant, dated Oct. 5.

Rome, Sept. 17. On the 10th Instant, the Master of the Horse of the Chevalier de St. George came hither from Urbino, and after he had the next Day spoken with Cardinal Gualtieri he departed for Castel Gandolfo, to see if in Apri-ment in it was prepar'd for his Master, who intends to live in it some time. On the 12th he came back again, and on the 13th in the Forenoon, he was by that Cardinal introduc'd to kiss the Pope's Foot, and at the same time deliver'd to his Holiness a Letter from the said Chevalier; and besought that there might be some other Conveniencies made at Castel Gandolfo for the Retinue of his Master, for which Orders were immediately given.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 11.

Augsburg, Sept. 28. The Electress of Bavaria, with the Princess her Daughter, arrived two Days ago at the Castle of Lichtenberg; and at the same time arrived here from Otaw in Silesia, by the Way of Prague, the Princess Hedwig-Elisabeth-Amelia, born Princess of Newburg, and Consort of the Prince James Sobiesky, with her youngest Daughter, whom she goes to conduct by Inspruck to the Frontiers of Italy, where this young Princess is to be received by the Earl of Mar, and conducted to the Pretender, to be married to him. 'Tis said this Princess brings in Dowry a Duchy in Poland, valued at 900000 German Florins; and that the two other Princesses her Daughters, are also promis'd in Marriage, one to the Hereditary Prince of Modena, and the other to the Duke of Guastalla.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Oct. 11.

Vienna, Sept. 27. Concerning the Marriage between the Chevalier de St. George and the youngest Daughter of Prince John Sobiesky, we hear that the Approbation of our Court had been desir'd, but could not be obtain'd, but that it goes forward notwithstanding, and that the Bride's nearest Relations, her Mother among the rest, have written hither that they were upon the way to Italy, to consummate the Marriage. By the Emperour's Behaviour on this Occasion it appears he is extremely displeas'd at this unexpected Event, and 'tis believ'd the British Court will receive sensible Testimonies of his Sincerity therein. The freshest Letters from Naples and Reggio tell us that the Spaniards continue the Siege of the Citadel of Messina, and attack it with great Fury, notwithstanding that our Men defend it with great Courage, and make frequent Sallies with good Success.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Oct. 8.

Petersburg, Sept. 16. On the 14th at Noon the Czar arrived here, having left 12 Men of War and all the Gallies at Croonsloot. We expected to have seen the Treaty of Peace with Sweden, but we are disappointed, nor can we learn how forward it is, being only inform'd that it is not yet broke off.

Warsaw, Sept. 23. The Speech which the Turkish Envoy made on the 17th, by the Help of an Interpreter, to the King, contained in Substance, as follows: After the usual Compliments of enquiring in the Sultan's Name concerning the Health of the King, he assured his Majesty, that the Grand Seignior would exactly observe the Treaty of Carlowitz. And then he desired his Majesty to give him an Answer to the Sultan's Letter which his Predecessor had deliver'd. And afterwards made Complaint of the insult committed by a Polish Nobleman upon the Envoy his Predecessor, as he returned home, and demanded Satisfaction for it. The Polish Chancellor answer'd him in the King's Name, that the Chancery had Orders to expedite his Affairs to his Content. On the 20th, the King's Domesticks set out from hence for Grodno, and on the 21st the King himself went thither, accompanied by the Waywode of Cracow, and the Bishop of Caminick, and will be follow'd by 300 of his Guards. The Tartar Envoy is gone after his Majesty, to have Audience there.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Oct. 11.

Augsburg, Oct. 7. We have receiv'd Advice from Vienna, that the two late Actions between the Danes and Swedes were not so considerable as was believ'd, there having been but little Loss on either Side. But the Swedes are advanced to within four Leagues of Dronheim, with Design to besiege it. In the mean time the King of Denmark has sent away some Battalions to reinforce his Troops in that Kingdom. The Advices concerning the Success of the Conferences at Aland are still very uncertain: But the Report runs, that a Project is form'd of a Peace between the King of Sweden and his Britannick Majesty. His Danish Majesty has dispatch'd an Officer to his Czarish Majesty, with a Commission upon the Subject of the Conferences at Aland.

From the Hague and Haerlem Courants, Oct. 10. Paris, Oct. 3. 'Tis spoken with great Assurance, that the Earl of Stairs has received Letters from Colonel Stanhope, dated at Madrid Sept. 19, with Advice, that the King of Spain had sent Orders to all the Governours of his Places, to arrest all the Ships and Effects belonging to the Subjects of Great Britain. The same also is begun to be done at Madrid, and a strict Search is made among all the Merchants, to find out what Effects are in their Hands belonging to the English. Colonel Stanhope had made very pathetic Representations to the Spanish Court thereupon, but had not yet received any Answer. On the contrary, the Goods and Ships belonging to the English at Cadix, were not only seiz'd, but the Consul of that Nation there is also arrested.

London, October 6.

By Letters of the freshest Date from Cadix, come by the last French Mail, which bears Date Oct. 12. from Paris, there is certain Advice that the Merchants Effects had not been touch'd by the Government: That the Action in the Bay, was look'd upon to have been without any Authority from the Court; and that the English Merchants were very Easy. They add, that some English who had been arrested at Madrid, were releas'd in a Day or two, and they heard nothing of any others being disturb'd.

London, October 6.

In respect to the Stomach, no Remedy can compare with it, all windy and other Disorders of that and the Bowels, it assuredly Cures as soon as taken, as it also does Colds of all sorts. All Fevers, whether Continual or Intermittent, Difficulties of the Head, Difficulties of the Breath and other cruel Diseases, are curiously prevented, and cured by it. It is a sure Refuge in all severe Pains, and never fails of giving intire Relief: For Convulsions in Infants it has not its Equal, some Thousands of them may be yearly saved by it from the Grave, it likewise absolutely frees them from all Pain and Illness in Breeding their Teeth. Words cannot express all its Virtues, 'tis very pleasant to both Taste and Smell, and is sold only at the Two Blue Pills in Mayday-Yard in the Minories, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.

For broken Winded Horses.

An infallible Remedy, that hath been published and sold for above these 20 Years past, hath been experienc'd to Satisfaction, and highly commended from one Friend to another, the vast Quantities that hath been sold, doth also verify the Truth of its Efficacy and Virtues, which most perfectly cures them, after many things prest have been ineffectual: to a Wonder, in a small time, without Confinement, by attenuating and opening the Globules of the Lungs dried up, and all Passages obstructed by Humours dripping thereon, occasion'd by hard Riding, Colds, &c. It causes presently a free Perspiration, renewing its Force, Vigour, and Length, as well as even, those only a little touch'd it cures immediately, as also all Coughs, Colds, Wheezings, &c. being excellent in preventing many other Disorders, by maintaining a good Breath. Is sold only by Mr. Bradbury, (now) at the Golden Fall, Toyshop, in King Street of Tower-Hill, near the Minories; and at Mr. Lawrence's, a Brazier, the Corner of Scadding-Alley, against Stocks-market in the Poastly, at 4 s. 6 d. the Bottle, with Directions.
